COL. ALBERT TUCKER IS ROTARY SPEAKER HERE

Col. Albert Tucker, commander of the military prison camp at Hearne, was guest speaker Wednesday at the Rotary Club.

Col. Tucker came to Cameron through invitation of J. M. Boehner, program chairman for the day. His address was of great interest to the Club members and their guests.

The military prison camp in America is a new institution of war and both prisoners and the system have inspired keen public interest and the curious have given military authorities no end of grief.

Col. Tucker, regarded as one of the best ranking officers of the army for the job, has made of the prison camp at Hearne a model of discipline and order. His remarks, entirely extemporaneous, were a careful and ethical discussion, highlighted with good humor and absorbing interest.

The prison camp in America is operated under rigid rules and it took Rotarians and their guests only a few minutes to learn that Colonel Tucker is a stickler for those rules and no doubt the Hearne camp will meet every expectation of the government.

It is not necessary to quote Colonel Tucker to say that prisoners receive good treatment and generally no problems of discipline are apt to arise. Most of them are trained soldiers and obeying orders is a part of their daily routine. Col. Tucker talked with great interest about the broad details of life in the camp.

Most of the prisoners now reaching America were taken in Tunisia. In some localities they are being utilized to relieve the acute farm labor crisis. So far none have been so used at Hearne and will not be unless a system of guarding the men can be worked out with the limited trained men at the disposal of the camp authorities. Prisoners may work on farm, this being permitted under the articles of the Geneva conference. Colonel Tucker said the United States Government is living up to every detail of our commitments in the pact of Geneva with respect to handling of prisoners of war.

Colonel Tucker made a very favorable impression with business men here and the Club wishes he may return soon.

For the information of the public no visiting is permitted in the camp and embarrassment all around can be averted if requests to enter the camp are not made.

TWO GERMAN ESCAPEES TAKEN NEAR AUSTIN

Two German prisoners, Ludwig Jung and Harold Stalleicken, who escaped North Camp Hood along with several others, were captured late Monday 20 miles west of Austin in the hill country.

The men, equipped with maps, said they were trying to get to Mexico and lay hidden in the woods by day and traveled by night.

P. E. Hannett, a service station operator and R. Faubion who was at the station, captured the men. A woman passing along the highway near Cedar Park, a small town in the hills, saw the prisoners and recognized them as such. She drove to the station and Hannett and his friend set out after the men.

When the prisoners saw them coming they ran but were hemmed in a high fence corner and captured. Hannett had a pistol.

The prisoners had been at liberty for five days. They are being returned to Camp Hood by Military Police.

FAMILY SUCCEEDS WITH FSA FUNDS

The David V. Small family of R. 2, Rockdale, used FSA funds to purchase baby chicks and feed for their flock.

During the first four months of 1943, they sold $551.40 worth of eggs from their 265 hens. They used $220 worth of feed giving them a net profit of $331.40 or $1.25 per hen.

Mama's Boy

You say he can't stand the army, The life is too rough, how sad, Do you think that he's any better, Than some other mother's lad?

You brought him up like a baby He don't smoke or drink, is your brag, If all the others were like him, Well, what would become of our flag?

You say, "let the roughnecks do the fighting," They are used to beans and stew, But I'm glad I'm classed with the roughnecks,

Who fight for the Red, White and Blue. You say his girl couldn't bear to send Her sweetheart out with the rest. Do you think that she'll be proud of him

When she feels the Jap's breath on her breast? You can thank God the stars in Old Glory Are not blurred with any such stain Because there are ten million roughnecks That carry red blood in their veins.

They go to drill in bad weather Come in with a grin on their face While your darling sits down in the parlor And let's a man fight in his place.

You're right, we do smoke, and we gamble But we fight as our forefathers did, So go warm the milk for his bottle, Thank God, that we don't need your kid.

PFC. ROBERT SPALDING, Scrap Metal Department, Cameron.

War Drama is Back Of "Reunion In Pairs," Here Thursday

Teamed for the first time with romance Philip Dorn who proved himself a great actor in "Escape," "Underground" and "Random Harvest," and John Wayne, Joan Crawford flashes across the screen in M-G-M's impressive "Reunion in France," seen Thursday at the Cameron Theatre.

"Reunion in France," directed by Jules Dassin and produced by Joe Mankiewicz, provides Miss Crawford with one of the most highly dramatic roles of her career. She is seen as a young, carefree French girl who comes face to face with the brutalities of the Nazi occupation of Paris when she discovers that her wealth is gone, and that her fiancé, Dorn, is also apparently one of the clique whose Nazi tendencies led to the betrayal and fall of her country.

Romantic Stars

Dorn, rapidly becoming recognized as one of the screen's great romantic stars, and John Wayne have the principal male roles, the former as Joan's fiancé and the latter as an escaped prisoner of war, an American member of the RAF whom she endeavors to aid in his efforts to reach England.

Bruce Jennings of Davilla returned home Wednesday from the Newton Memorial Hospital much improved.

W. R. POAGE

Congress has at last answered the challenge to John L. Lewis and all of those who contend that any group of our citizens is or should be above or beyond the law. Two generations ago the railroads insisted that they were bigger than the Government. Jim Hogg and John H. Reagan finally forced them to recognize the rights of the people of Texas. The railroads are now loaded down with regulations, but it has taken fifty years for them to regain the public confidence. More recently the utilities and their holding companies sought to exploit the people of America with utter disregard for rights of the public. They resisted, and in many cases are still resisting the right of the Government to protect the people, but we have in large measure brought their operations under the control of law. Most people now agree that the public has the right to require regulation of utility companies. Only the labor unions have remained beyond the reach of

MARLIN TO GET NAVY HOSPITAL BELIEF HERE

The United States Government will build a 1000 bed Naval Hospital at Marlin, indications were, based upon information received here.

Congressman Poage has said that Marlin is favored to get the hospital, similar to the army hospital in Temple.

Cameron was an applicant for the hospital but may have lost out getting to the post as it has been generally understood here that Congressman Poage would favor Marlin on the next allotment of government spending for this area.

Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Poage appeared before Admiral Hand in charge of naval construction of hospitals and while the Senator made no recommendation, Congressman Poage pointed out that the Senator's home city had received nothing in the way of government construction since the war began.

Houston and Waco are also applicants for the hospital but Marlin will be selected, according to information reaching The Herald.

The mineral waters at Marlin are a big boost for the hospital. These same waters can be had in Milam.

These families have had large quantities of milk and milk products for home use and have sold $1749.32. Their cattle sales have amounted to $3590.52 and they have 45 calves to butcher for home use.

They are well pleased because they are able to have these products for their families' use and are able to place this large amount on the market, doing their share to furnish food needed by this country.

DAY BY DAY Things We Want To Say

Here is a letter of great interest from Reed Rogers to his wife in Port Arthur. Reed, a member of the armed forces in Alaska, was born and reared in Cameron and is the son of Wm. R. Rogers. The letter was sent to the Herald by Mrs. Eloise Rons-assen, the former Miss Eloise Rogers and is as follows:

Well a lot of water has gone under the bridge in the past 72 hours, and I'll try and tell you some of it. I had my tooth pulled Thursday and it didn't hurt at all. Then Friday I told Mr. O'Connor that I was going up to Hope. I didn't think he was going to let me go, but with a little raring and turning on the heat, we finally got off. Well we got up at six thirty and pulled out in our little Navy Jeep with Liggett, Mr. and Mrs. Manning and myself. We rode up to "Mile Post Twenty-eight" to the home of "Alaska Nellie." It is on Kenia Lake. We stayed for an hour and a half. She showed us her collection of animals, mounted, that she had shot. We took some pictures of us all together, and then we went over into her house, and she showed us all through her collections as well as her underwear and dresses. She is a very notorious person. In fact, she has Roosevelt right by the hand. I bought her book and had her to autograph it for us; so I am sending it to you so you can read her novel as I am sure you will get a great kick out of it, and by the way every bit of it is true. Never in my life have I ever met a person quite like her. Also when the pictures are ready I will send them to you.

Well we got away from Alaska Nellie about 11:30 and headed for Moose Pass where we bought some pork and beans to go with our ham and egg sandwiches, along with potato salad, pickles and fruit, also we took along coffee and meal and then headed for Russian River which is about 25 miles from Moose Pass through the most rugged and beautiful of Kenai Peninsula at "Mile Post 43." I was gazing and looking and behold my eyes, I hollowed, "My God stop. There's a big moose." We backed up and about 600 yards from us there he stood. The most stately and gorgeous animal I ever saw. From the looks of him he would have weighed 2000 pounds. I wanted to take a crack at him, but it lacked only two more weeks before the season opened. We watched him for about five minutes, and he turned around and ambled off in the spruces and birches. Well we talked about it all the way till we got to Copper River where we got out and had a bottle of Olympia beer. By that time it was one thirty. However I bought three pictures of moose from him. We traveled along Russian River for about four miles looking for a keen spot to spread our lunch. Then we were going to do some fishing while Mrs. Manning prepared our food. At two o'clock we found a beautiful spot and made camp. I would have given a yankee dime if you could have been along and shared some of this with me. I caught a Rainbow trout about 16 inches long, and it seems as if God almighty puts every bit of the color chart in that handsome fish. And by the way I caught him on one of my own flies. Of course that made me feel that much better. Leggett caught one also. So the skillet got hot, and the meal began to spew, so we cooked our fish right along with the rest of our food, and it was grand. That water is so cold, and it rushed along at about the rate of 30 miles an hour.

After eating we took a nap for about an hour. Then we got up and headed back. We stopped again and fished at a beautiful rushing creek, but we didn't have any luck. Mrs. Manning looked at her watch and it was four thirty, so we decided to go to Hope, which was about forty miles. On the way up, about Mile Post 59, we ran into a covey of Ptarmigan, and they were just turning. They are the most beautiful bird you see, they change from winter coat to summer, and they were half brown and white. They are a lot larger than our quail, but such a pretty bird. Honest, we could save shot them. I begged Leggett not to shoot.

All along the lakes we saw Great Big Mallard ducks and I wanted one so bad. Absolutely this is a hunter's and fisherman's paradise. We were cruising along being careful not to turn over down those two thousand foot gulches, (and by the way, the roads are one way.) You will come on a perfect ninety degree bend and it will scare the pudding out of you. Am glad I'm back. All of a sudden a great big moose jumped right out in front of us and headed down the road. He ran in front of the car for about six miles, and to think we didn't have a camera to get pictures. Only one foot hits the ground at one time, and you should have seen that queer thing running. He got up to thirty five miles an hour. Right now I can see that rascal running. An on-coming car scared him and about that time he leaped into the forest.

We got to Hope about 6:15, and got out to look at the barge that they are making and the beautiful scenery. Well I opened my mouth and asked a fellow how far it was across Turnagin Arm from here, and he said "What part of Texas are you from Bud?" I thought Mr. and Mrs. Manning and Leggett would have a hissie. He said "I'm from Palo Pinto County myself—out of Fort Worth." "I've been here since 1899." We got right chummy, and by the way I saw some cows and chickens at Hope. The chickens were Rhode Island Reds. There are a lot of clutches (Natives) at Hope. Hope is about the size of Chriesman, you know right out of Caldwell. Don't sit here in the chair and ask Mrs. Hudson where Chriesman is cause you should know. Anyway the population of Hope is 45 which is a big city in Alaska.

Started back at six thirty five, and I drove coming back. We got in about 10 o'clock last night, and it was light as day. My face was solid gray from the lava rust.

ALLIED AIR POWER IS CREDITED WITH VICTORY

The island of Pantelleria in the Mediterranean, under siege for six days, was in the hands of the American and British forces at noon Friday.

Surrender of Pantelleria was announced in Washington, London and Rome. The Italian radio said the air bombings had reduced the island to pulp.

It was not known how many Axis troops were garrisoned on the island. In the final assault on the island the Allies shot down 37 Axis planes. Our losses were also heavy as the aerial war was intense and the air force was given credit for reducing the stronghold.

Capture of the Island will give the Allies closer contact with the enemy on Sicily and command of the straits, important to the free movement of Allied ships.

Other islands were believed now being attacked to clear the way for uninterrupted assaults on the mainland of Italy.

In Washington at his press conference President Roosevelt made an appeal to the Italian people, promising them the choice of any kind of government except the Fascist type. If the Axis nations should accept the Roosevelt-Churchill suggestion the United Nations would lose the war as surely as it was lost 25 years ago and one radio commentator denounced the appeasing policy of asking the people to quit fighting.

If the Axis powers are not beaten to the ground the war will be lost.

Implications in radio comment were to his great persuasive powers, to that Mr. Roosevelt might succeed, due induce the Italian people to quit fighting. Fireside chats revived now and substituted for an invasion would be the diplomatic way out but would never accomplish the desired ends of beating the Axis.

Some said an invasion might not now be necessary.

Over in the Pacific the bombers under General MacArthur made the largest air raid of the war by pounding Japanese positions in New Guinea. Radio comments said it was the strongest raid of the Pacific war. The RAF carried out light raids on the French coast Friday.

Sudden upsurge of Russian air strength in the Caucasus was said

Friday to have given the Reds supremacy and two heavy German attacks were thrown back.

NAZI PRISONERS ARE SEEN AT FLORENCE

ITALIAN INVASION IS COMING THIS WEEK

Mass evacuation of German people and those of the occupied countries all along the invasion front in Europe is under way, it was officially announced in the German press.

The Berlin and Rome Radio reported early Tuesday that ships are massing in the straits of Sicily and that the invasion of Sicily and Sardinia is coming this week.

The Germans say that the evacuation of their peoples from western Germany is a matter of good sense and there was every indication that Hitler was preparing for the final show down when the Allies invade the continent.

It was not expected that resistance would be very effective from the soft underbelly of the beast. Italy will not be able to stave off defeat if the Allies go in. The Germans have said that their Mediterranean defenses are gone but Italian leaders were boasting that the Allies will find tough going when they try to get on Sicily, Sardinia or the Boot.

Invasion of these larger islands is expected momentarily by the Italians. The Allies seemed satisfied that they were already ahead of schedule and there is no reason to hurry.

Except for what may be in prospect there was little to say about the war. The bombings are getting a bit threadbare in the day's news. The peoples of the world want a fight and want an invasion.

Mass surrender of Italian troops is looked for when Sicily and Sardinia are attacked.

Sherlock Holmes Goes To Washington; Film Opens Here Saturday

"If my father were alive, I believe he would be pleased with the selection of Basil Rathbone to portray the character of Sherlock Holmes," declared Denis Conan Doyle, son of the creator of the famous Sherlock Holmes mystery stories.

Rathbone has portrayed Holmes in all of Universal's mystery thrillers based on Conan Doyle's characters. The latest is "Sherlock Holmes in Washington," which comes Saturday to the Cameron Theatre.

In each of the Sherlock Holmes pictures, Nigel Bruce portrays the role of Holmes' constant companion, Doctor Watson.

During the recent visit of Denis Conan Doyle to Hollywood, he was a frequent visitor at Universal studio. He watched the pictures being made and was highly pleased with the portrayal of the characters created by his famous father.

"Rathbone and Bruce even resemble the physical descriptions of Holmes and Watson," declared Doyle.

While he was in Hollywood, Doyle made both Bruce and Rathbone honorary members of "The Baker Street Irregulars," an organization of prominent men who make the study of Conan Doyle's writings a hobby.

Appearing with Rathbone and Bruce in "Sherlock Holmes in Washington," are several distinguished motion picture favorites including Marjorie Lord, John Archer, Don Terry and George Zucco. The film was directed by Roy William Neill and Howard Benedict presided as associate producer.

Young Men May Now Enlist in Reserve Of the Air Corps

Young men, especially high school students who are not yet 18 years of age, may now enlist in the Air Corps and remain in reserve to be called up when they reach induction age.

This is important news to many in this section. All young men who are 18 are subject to military duty. The new enlistment program permits boys to pick the air corps.

The Recruiting Service at Fort Sam Houston has placed with The Herald a number of application blanks which may be filled out. Some of these blanks have already been taken.

Application is made and examination is held. If the applicant passes he is accepted and will not be called until he reaches military age. On the other hand men up to 26 who want to get in the air corps can enlist, subject to call.

Any young man who wants to become a flyer or enter any other branch of the air corps may sign up at The Herald.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 20.

The Golden Text is: "To us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him" (I Cor. 8:6.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth" (Ssalms 33:6.)

The Lesson Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Infinite Mind creates and governs all, from the mental molecule to infinity" (page 507.)

Miss Willie Mae Stoeber of Temple who has a position with the McCloskey Hospital visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Willie Stoeber last week end at Burlington.

JITTER WAR GOES ON TO STALEMATE ACTION

The war of nerves has played havoc with action on the war fronts of the world.

Wednesday the entire story was speculation and implied facts the Axis nations are expecting an invasion momentarily.

King George of England is in North Africa with the army.

Premier Tojo, in a speech to the Japanese Diet told his people the time is near for concerted attack by America and Great Britain.

Closing of the frontier between Iran and Turkey led the German radio to say that a sizeable army had been built up of American and British soldiers, ready for an invasion from that point.

Based upon what was in the picture Wednesday the invasion, if it comes, will be through Italy. The first attack will be upon Sicily and Sardinia.

Once in possession of Sardinia the toe of the Italian boot can be pulverized with little effort. To reach Greece the eastern Mediterranean will have to be neutralized and the Italian navy put out of action.

The war in the air continued and just before noon the German radio in Berlin went off the air indicating a new pasting may be in the offing for the capital of Hitler's Reich.

Military commentators now say that an invasion, if successful must come with the aid of the Russians. Most people have considered an invasion would aid the Russians as a primary objective.

The Germans are now boasting that the Dieppe raid in which thousands of troops were lost, is proof that the fortress of Europe cannot be invaded.

The war from the air is being taken to the heart of Germany. Wednesday was no exception as bombers by the hundreds roared into action over the German industrial areas.

Miss Marjorie Clements and Miss Bobby Clements visited relatives and friends in Cameron during the past week end.

Train Jaunt, Bold Face

Almost Get Boy in Navy

CHICAGO. — James Pettery Jr. wanted to join the navy and see the world but all he got was a swell train ride. Jimmy is 14 years old. Four days ago at Charleston, W. Va., Jimmy hid his 113 pounds on a train he knew was taking recruits to the Great Lakes naval training station near Chicago. Next morning, when the train stopped at Cincinnati, Jimmy put on a bold face and the feed bag along with the bona fide recruits. The unit leader was puzzled when the restaurant cashier told him 48 meals had been served to a group supposedly numbering 47.

"Is there anyone here who doesn't belong with us?" he asked. None of the recruits said anything. Jimmy didn't say anything. They all got back on the train.

But when it pulled in at the training station yesterday, Jimmy fell victim to the navy's habit of counting heads. Desperately, he protested: "But I'll be 15 in July."

The discipline officer turned Jimmy over to the Red Cross, which put him aboard a train for his home town, Hetzel, W. Va.

Is Convicted of Murder

LONDON.—Derek Lees-Smith, 20-year-old student, was convicted of murder of his mother, but was adjudged insane and ordered detained "during the King's pleasure," an indefinite term.

Lees-Smith was accused of stabbing and choking his mother, Mrs. Marion Scott Key Lees-Smith, who claimed kinship with Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner." She was found dead December 31.

The prosecution claimed the youth had signed a statement admitting that he killed his mother after she complained of beer on his breath.

Has His Wallet Stolen,

It's Found and Returned

BATON ROUGE, LA.—Several months ago William D. Bridges was robbed by a man who accosted him on the street, pinned his arms down and seized his wallet.

The man fled and Bridges chased him several blocks. Recently a dredge boat worker restored the wallet to Bridges' family. The Negro who robbed him evidently had become frightened when he was chased and threw it into the Mississippi river, which washed it back to the shore. Bridges' money, $103, was intact.

LIBERTY ASSOCIATION

Liberty Cemetery Association met the first Friday in June.

The Association decided to use the first Friday in July for a day to work. So come bring your hoes, rakes and dinner. We have had that day set aside for a home coming the last ten years. There is no one to work and can't get help so we're going to work that day, so don't be disappointed, we will have the day just the same.

When the war is over we will gather on that day like like we have the past ten years. Everyone is invited to come. Myrtle Pounds, Secretary.

JOHN L. LEWIS KICKS ICKES IN THE PANTS

Six major coal mines in Pennsylvania and Alabama were closed Saturday in another strike which came over protest by John L. Lewis of the fines imposed by Harold Ickes against miners for striking.

The CIO labor leader has turned on Ickes, the man to whom he appealed when the White House appealed to the miners to return to work. John L. Lewis and Harold Ickes were going along together until Ickes imposed the fines. Lewis gave the Secretary of the Interior a swift kick in the pants and has been ranting every since about the penalty.

Ickes backed up and said the fines could be remitted. John L. Lewis continued to grumble and miners began to walk out.

In Washington early Saturday the Senate was preparing to pass the House Bill imposing heavy penalties for striking or causing a strike. If the bill is passed the President will veto it and Mr. Lewis will win again.

The War Labor Board hourly was expected to render a decision in the matter of allowing $1.50 more pay to compensate the miners for time going in and out of the mines. Whatever that decision may be Mr. Lewis nor the miners will abide by it and Mr. Lewis will win again. It's a cinch.

Both political parties are angling for the labor vote and the war is forgotten for the moment.

The largest air raid of the war was carried out by the RAF Saturday over the Ruhr and Rhineland, losing 43 planes.

The invasion of Europe was still under way. Lampendusa, small speck of dirt in the Mediterranean and near Pantelleria has been given an ultimatum to surrender. The Italians refused. On Pantelleria 10,000 Italian prisoners were taken.

General Charles DeGaulle of the fighting French has caused the dismissal of 150 high ranking French officers.

New and bigger raids were being made by General Douglas MacArthur on Jap bases in the Pacific.

Contract Let to Paint Standpipe; Was Built In 1895 and Still Good

Contract has been let by the Community Public Service Company to the Water Tank Service Company in Dallas to paint the town's standpipe and work has already begun.

The standpipe is to be painted battleship grey as no aluminum paint is now available, Richard Hester, Manager, said.

The standpipe was erected in 1895 and is still in excellent condition. It is 115 feet high, constructed of a most one inch steel and has a capacity of 175,000 gallons of water.

The standpipe's primary use is to maintain pressure in the mains. The pressure is 50 pounds in all the mains, increased several years ago to meet fire fighting standards and to give good water service.

Sgt. Jeff Cammer, Jr., wounded when a plane crashed at Rock Island, Ill., has been sent to a hospital at Clinton, Iowa, for treatment. He was due to come home for recuperation but the army doctors sent him to Clinton, site of the largest government hospital in the country, so he might have the advantage of special treatment by a bone surgeon.

GERMANS PUTTING UP STIFF AIR BATTLES

Loss Sunday of 26 flying Fortresses by American bomber crews over Germany brought sharply into the war picture a stiffening of resistance by the German air force and comment in London was that the Germans have prepared a 100 mile deep air defense line all along the Atlantic coast of Europe.

The Fortresses costing about 13 million dollars, went over unescorted. The heavy loss on this raid may force a change in attack formula from the air. The Fortress, largest of the fighting craft, is too slow to get away from the fighter planes. The Army's B-26 is the only bomber capable of greater speed than the vast majority if not all the fighter planes of the enemy.

The raid in which our losses were heavy was made against Kiel and Bremen and the results obtained were said to justify the losses taken.

Air activity was making up the global war activities. Sicily was heavily bombed Sunday and the RAF was carrying out another devastating attack on Germany and occupied Europe. In Burma the RAF took a heavy toll of Japs and their positions.

The rest-pause that refreshes

Welcome in peace... more welcome in war work

WAR plant managers will tell you that anything that contributes to contented workers makes better workers. In plant after plant it has been found that a rest-pause breaks monotony, lessens tiredness and tension.

When you add refreshment to a rest-pause, you not only have a pause that rests, but refreshes, too. A moment for ice-cold Coca-Cola makes a rest-pause take on more meaning... promoting contentment that leads to more work and better work. Yes, contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

Close work brings the need to pause. Ice-cold Coca-Cola brings tingling refreshment to make any pause the pause that refreshes.

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things... a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

One look at the instrument panel and you feel the same way. It's hard to believe that ordinary mortals could ever master that maze of dials, buttons, levers and switches.

But young Americans are doing it with deadly efficiency. (Ask Adolf, Benito or Tojo.) And they don't learn their jobs just by reading a book. It takes intensive training and practical experience.

The electric power business is like that. You can't make kilowatt-hours with theories. You've got to learn how—by growing up in the business.

* BONDS BUILD FORTRESSES FOR FREEDOM!

That's the way most electric company men got their start. It's the American way. And it works.

It works so well that the electric companies under experienced business management were able to push power production up and up—to supply war plants with far more electric power than any nation has ever known before—and at low rates.

The same business system that is helping to win the war today will also enrich the peace—when air freighters are delivering radios and refrigerators—instead of block-busters!

To all Home Canners IMPORTANT

We have had a few reports of jar breakage during the process of oven canning. Sometimes this can result in serious consequences. Therefore, we wish to again stress to all Home Canners the importance of following to the letter the rules governing oven canning. Like anything else, home canning, particularly oven canning, has very definite rules which must be followed if safe and successful results are to be obtained.

To the many thousands with no previous practical experience who are canning the products of their victory gardens, and the surplus vegetables and fruits, these DO's and DON'T's are especially directed:

DON'T

Don't try oven canning unless you are absolutely positive that the oven on your range will maintain a constant, even temperature of 250 degrees.

Don't use jars made just for storing or handling food such as mayonnaise. The glass will not withstand steam pressure or high heat.

Don't use a cracked jar or one nicked around the rim.

Don't screw or tightly set jar tops until after removing from oven.

Don't guess at processing time.

Don't allow cold air to strike hot jars.

Don't crowd oven with too many jars.

Don't fill jars too full.

Don't begin oven canning until you thoroughly understand the method and know each step.

DO

Do preheat and maintain oven temperature at 250 degrees, and make sure that temperature is held constant and not allowed to build up during processing time.

Do use only jars of TEMPERED glass, that is, jars made expressly for canning purposes.

Do check carefully all jars before you use them and make sure each is sterilized.

Do follow manufacturer's instructions in the use of jar tops. Complete seal immediately upon removing jars from oven, if necessary and according to the kind of top used.

Do count processing time from the time oven door is closed on an oven that has been preheated. Use approved time chart.

Do shield hot jars when they are removed from the oven from cold drafts. Place them on several thicknesses of towel and cover with towel out of draft.

Do leave enough space between jars and between jars and oven wall to permit good heat circulation. It is best to arrange jars two inches apart on shallow tray for easy handling.

Do allow, in filling jars, at least one-half inch head-room at top for expansion and avoiding boil-overs.

Do go by instructions from a reliable source such as Lone Star's Wartime Canning Booklet.

Bear in mind that the U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends, as in the water bath method, that only fruits and tomatoes, and tomato mixtures containing at least 50 per cent tomatoes, should be processed by the oven method. And then only IF you are positive and absolutely certain the oven temperature can be maintained constantly at 250 degrees.

POAGE

For many years the public looked with sympathy on the development of powerful unions. We sought to give to labor just as favorable position as we had given capital. In that equality and opportunity we still believe, but with power and opportunity goes responsibility. Organized labor has been given tremendous power. Certain elements of organized labor have grossly abused that power, even to the extent of jeopardizing the very lives of our soldiers. They have asked the Government to give them power. Now they deny the right of the Government to make them responsible to the public for the use of this power. Fair and honest regulation don't hurt fair and honest business, and neither do fair and honest regulations of labor unions reflect on honest and patriotic laboring men. Nevertheless, we continue to get threats of defeat for any Congressman who votes for the Connally-Smith Bill and claims that this bill would destroy the right of laboring men to organize. This is absolutely false. The bill imposes no hardship of any kind on any man or union that is trying to promote our war effort. I have written to many of those who communicated with me against this legislation and have asked them to point out just how this legislation would injure them. Not one person has even tried to show that it would harm him personally. I have, therefore, just voted with the 219 to 129 majority for the conference report on this bill. The conference report contained most of the desirable provisions of both the House and the Senate Bills. I am hopeful that before night the Senate will have accepted the report. I think that the final passage of this bill will be a milepost in our Nation's history. It will mean that just as the American people of a generation ago determined that "big business" was not going to control our Government, the American people of today are not going to let "big labor unions" control the Government. The American Government must always recognize and protect the rights of both business and labor, but it can never allow either business or labor to defy the Government. Today's vote proves that the United States Government is still bigger than John L. Lewis.

The next show-down at the home front is likely to be with the OPA. There is a determined effort on the part of the theorists to roll back all agricultural prices and to then try to make up the difference to the producers by a system of subsidies or direct government payments. Congress has on many occasions expressed its opposition to this indirect method. It seems that there is little to be gained by using tax money to reduce the price of meat or butter, or other food products. The people will have to make up just as much in taxes as they would otherwise pay in price. The subsidies only provide jobs for a whole army of government employees and confuse both the consumer and the producer. This confusion and uncertainty inevitably tend to discourage production and that is a thing we simply can't afford. I am so convinced that we are going to face a real shortage of food next winter that I want to urge every person in the 11th District to can, dry and otherwise preserve every possible pound of food this summer. As

I have often pointed out, the only way to increase food production as a whole is to assure the farmers a fair price for what they produce and to make it possible for them to get the help, machinery, and equipment they need.

In this connection, the WPB has today announced a change in regulations that will hereafter allow a farmer to buy up to $25 worth of supplies by filing a simple statement with the dealer that the supplies are to be used on the farm. The dealer may then sell the supplies to the farmer without any certificate and then use the farmer's statement to replace his stock. This will enable farmers to buy all kinds of farm tools, nails, staples, pipe, hardware, etc., up to $25 in value without the red tape of getting a certificate or priority. It is most encouraging to see one of these agencies adopt a simplified regulation. It should help.

Sometimes when you've a long distance call to a war-busy place, the operator will say —

"Please limit your call to five minutes. Others are waiting."

This doesn't happen all the time, because many long distance calls go through about as usual.

But whenever we have had to ask that calls be kept to five minutes, there has been a fine spirit of co-operation from the public.
